

Dear Colleagues,

Greetings and prayerful wishes from Fr. George Mathew Karoor.

Hope that these few lines of mine will find you healthy, happy and safe, in spite of this challenging situation of the pandemic. Let us strengthen ourselves, our dear and near ones with courage and confidence and with the immense blessings from God Almighty.

May I express my heartfelt gratitude and appreciation towards all of you for cooperating and supporting me during my tenure as the Regional Secretary and Council Member from Kerala in discharging my duties diligently and sincerely. Now it is time for me to say Goodbye to all of you since I am transferred from the Principalship of Sarvodaya Vidyalaya, Nalanchira, Trivandrum. It became inevitable for me to move out of this office too.

It was really heartening and valuable to associate and move with great and honourable people like you, my dear colleagues, that this experience enriched and enlivened me in my life as an educationalist. As I write these few lines, all your faces and names are passing through my mind and I am not mentioning any names. All of you and your staff have kept a very intimate and personal acquaintance with me whenever we met together. I tried my best to help out wherever and whenever it was necessary.

It is a bit difficult to say adieu to you and our schools as I am no more a part of this group. I humbly request you to excuse and pardon any of my shortcoming or misgivings where I might have inadvertently offended anyone in any manner. Please keep me in your prayers always that I may do well in my new assignment as the Secretary of our Cardinal Baselios Cleemis, the Head of the Syro-Malankara Catholic Church.

I promise that I will keep all of you, our ICSE and ISC schools and our association close to my heart and pray for its well-being.

Once again a big THANK YOU!
